

Biodynamic Craniosacral Therapy Association Conference

The Breath of Life - September 18-21, 2008

Embassy Suites, Research Triangle, Cary, North Carolina

Please join us for 3 days of enlightening presentations, movement, play and networking

Roger Gilchrist Spiritual Implications of Nerve Facilitation.

Maya Kaya Approaching Intelligently: Tools for Cultivating a (aka Margaret Rosenau) Relationship with the Living Ground.

Cherionna Menzam Biodynamic Craniosacral Therapy and Continuum
Movement: A Perfect Marriage

Kathleen Morrow The Amazing Fluid Interchange; Lymph And CSF

Christopher Muller Structure in Motion- Working with the Knee

Mary Louise Muller Resonance and Restoring Resilience in the Nervous System

Peggy Olsen Exploring The Relational Field Dynamics

& Shelli Worrall Of Early Trauma

Sharon Porter Tracking the Breath of Life

Peggy Rene Risch Biodynamic Forces in Nature

Franklyn Sills Being and Becoming

Jean Weitensteiner The Power of Attuned Responsive Relationships

Plus the General Meeting, Presidents report and a Conference workshop

Prices for 3 Day Conference	Member	Non-Member
Postmark before June 30	$385	$460
Early July 1 to Aug 31	$445	$520
After Aug 31	$495	$570

Information will soon follow regarding a Pre or Post
Conference Workshop

The Nature of Being Franklyn Sills

The nature of spirit and being within a Craniosacral Biodynamic context will be explored in this three day seminar. We will explore the holding environment, and the nature of the basic needs of being and well-being as described by Dr. Frank Lake, with the intention of healing wounds at the level of being within a Craniosacral context. Within this exploration we will also orient to the heart center as the seat of being, and to the Stillness that centers being-in-this-life.

Payments may be made by check or credit card to BCTA/NA. Mail to:
Edwin Nothnagel, 150 Cross Creek Court, Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27517
Lodging at the Embassy Suites $115 per night for one or two to a room
$125 per night for three or four to a room